

Adjectives (-ing & -ed) Sentence Completion Guessing Game

Write adjectives in at least half the sentences below to make true sentences for you, if possible not using the same adjective more than once (although using the -ed version and the -ing version of the same adjective are okay). Make sure you use the right form of the word in each gap.

Read out just the adjective from one of your sentences (not the rest of the sentence). Using the meaning and grammar of that word, your partner will try to guess which sentence you put that in by reading out whole sentences (with "You..." instead of "I...").

Useful language for playing the game

"That isn't possible because it would need to be...ed/...ing to go in that gap."

"No (that's not true), in that case I..."

"That's a good guess, but personally I..."

"That is also possible, but is not the sentence I wrote. Try again."

"That's almost right, but stronger/ not as strong."

"That's correct. (I...) It's your turn."

Sentences to fill with -ed and -ing adjectives

I feel _____ during most superhero movies.

I think soap operas are _____.

I would feel _____ if I was a computer programmer.

Monday is the most _____ day of the week for me.

I think rock climbing would be _____.

I would feel _____ if my teacher gave me crosswords for homework.

I think the smell of kimchi is _____.

I was _____ the last time I went on a rollercoaster.

I think the sound of rain on my tent is _____.

I think social worker would be a _____ job.

I would feel _____ after a long hike in the mountains.

Having music playing in the workplace would be _____.

I would feel _____ about appearing on TV.

I think wildlife documentaries are _____.

Suggested –ed and –ing adjectives

annoyed/ annoying

ashamed/ shameful

bored/ boring

challenged/ challenging

confused/ confusing

delighted/ delightful

disgusted/ disgusting

embarrassed/ embarrassing

excited/ exciting

exhausted/ exhausting

fascinated/ fascinating

frightened/ frightening

interested/ interesting

relaxed/ relaxing

satisfied/ satisfying

stressed/ stressful

terrified/ terrifying

thrilled/ thrilling

tired/ tiring

Make your own similar sentences with –ed and –ing adjectives like those above. This time read out the sentence with the –ed or –ing adjective missing and see if your partner can guess the missing adjective. If not, give them hints until they guess correctly or give up.