

British or American Transport Trivia Quiz

Read out a line from your worksheet and see if your partner can guess if it is about the UK (the underlined one) or about the USA. Don't change the wording, as there are both useful facts and useful language (British English or American English). If their guess is right, they get two points. If they are not sure or don't understand the hint, they can ask for the other hint in the same section and then guess which one is British and which is American. A correct guess after two hints gets one point. Take turns doing that for your partner and guessing if their sentences are about the UK or USA until your teacher stops you.

Switch worksheets and do the same, making sure that you start with the most difficult (as your partner has already seen them). Then ask about anything you don't understand.
