

BULATS Speaking Part One script and practice

Ask your partner the questions below, sticking exactly to the wording in the script

Good morning. Come in. Take a seat please. My name's _____ and I'm your examiner today. Can I check your ID, please?

Thank you. And what would you like me to call you?

I'd like to start by asking you some questions about yourself. Is that okay?

Do you live near here?

Are you working, or are you a student?

So, I'd like to ask you about your job. What is your typical working day like?

And do you enjoy your job?

(Why makes you say that?)

Is this your first job?

And what would you like to do in the future?

Let's move on and talk about your free time and hobbies. How do you usually spend your weekends?

Do you have any plans for this weekend?

How did you use to spend your weekends when you were a child?

How could you ask exactly the same questions with different language?

Switch roles and do it again, but using different language to ask the same questions.

Switch roles again, but this time asking past, present and future questions about travel and language study.

Do it one last time, but about two topics that you haven't yet talked about.
