

Cambridge First Certificate (FCE)- Making Use of English Part Four Questions from the Root Sentences Group A

All the sentences below are based on real FCE key word sentence transformation answers. Choose sentences from below and write exam tasks to which they are the answers, following these steps:

1. Choose one sentence from below
2. Write another sentence that has exactly the same meaning (including the same name, etc) to be the sentence with the answer in it (a gapped version of which will come after the prompt sentence below and the key word)
3. Take out between two and five words from the sentence that you wrote
4. Decide which of those words will be the key word which you will give to help make the sentence that you wrote
5. On another piece of paper write out the full exam task, with the prompt sentence that you chose from above top, the key word under that, and the gapped version of the sentence that you wrote last
6. Make a note of the words which need to go in the gap, including ones which aren't the same as the sentence that you wrote but would also fit the gap and make a sentence with the same meaning as the prompt sentence
7. Divide the answers into two halves with one point for each part (as in the exam)

Key word sentence transformation prompt sentences

- Almost all of the mince pies have been eaten.
- Do you think it is likely that Tom will get a promotion?
- Everyone says that the team is the worst ever.
- I couldn't think of a good translation for the last idiom.
- I waited outside Tom's flat for ages but he didn't come back.
- It's a pity but I can't come to your presentation on Tuesday.
- I'd rather not cancel the conference.
- The team continued to try their best despite being five goals down.

Give your tasks to another group to try. Take back their attempt to mark, then take questions after you give their answers back with a mark and the correct answers on.

Cambridge First Certificate (FCE)- Making Use of English Part Four Questions from the Root Sentences Group B

All the sentences below are based on real FCE key word sentence transformation answers. Choose sentences from below and write exam tasks to which they are the answers, following these steps:

1. Choose one sentence from below
2. Write another sentence that has exactly the same meaning (including the same name, etc) to be the sentence with the answer in it (a gapped version of which will come after the prompt sentence below and the key word)
3. Take out between two and five words from the sentence that you wrote
4. Decide which of those words will be the key word which you will give to help make the sentence that you wrote
5. On another piece of paper write out the full exam task, with the prompt sentence that you chose from above top, the key word under that, and the gapped version of the sentence that you wrote last
6. Make a note of the words which need to go in the gap, including ones which aren't the same as the sentence that you wrote but would also fit the gap and make a sentence with the same meaning as the prompt sentence
7. Divide the answers into two halves with one point for each part (as in the exam)

Key word sentence transformation prompt sentences

- There are no tracksuits of Tom's size left in the shop.
- Tom broke the window by accident.
- Tom can't wait to see the new Star Wars film.
- Tom has enough talent to become a professional basketball player.
- Tom is in favour of banning fox hunting.
- Tom promised that he would think carefully about his future career.
- Tom thought the course would be more difficult than it actually was.
- Wearing a tie seems pointless to me.
- "Do you know the price of the apples, Tom?" asked Jeff.

Give your tasks to another group to try. Take back their attempt to mark, then take questions after you give their answers back with a mark and the correct answers on.