

Conversations when you move abroad step by step roleplays game

Roleplay a conversation/ conversations in the first step below with you as the person moving abroad and your partner as anyone you talk to. When you finish, your partner will give you one point if you do well or two points if you do perfectly, but no points if you didn't communicate well. Then switch roles and do the same with your partner as the person moving abroad. You then do the same for the second step, but you can use your points at any point during the game to skip steps below, e.g. using two points to skip steps 8 and 9 because they are difficult or not things that you will really need to do.
