

Good and Taboo- Present Progressive Questions

Secretly flip a coin and ask a normal good question below if you get heads or a strange taboo question if you get tails. Without knowing which kind of question you tried to choose, your partner should answer if they think that it is an ordinary everyday small talk question or politely refuse to answer if they think that it is an odd question that people don't usually ask (with most polite phrases from below). Then show them the coin.
