

Past Perfect sentence completion games

Past Perfect sentence completion bluffing game

Complete the sentence below your partner chooses as fast as possible, using your imagination if you can't quickly think of a true personal sentence. After follow-up questions, they will guess if your sentence was true or false. Then take turns doing the same.

Past Perfect things in common sentence completion challenge

Ask about your partner and tell them about yourself to be able to fill the gaps below with things that are true for both of you.

When your teacher stops you, ask about any sentences below which you weren't sure how to complete, working together to complete it each time, with true information if possible.

Past Perfect key words

Do the same activity or the other activity above, but this time make your own sentences with these key words:

- almost
- already
- arrived
- because
- before
- by
- by the time
- chose
- completely
- finished
- first
- given up
- had
- he
- heard
- I'd
- just
- last
- left
- met
- my present.../ my current...
- never
- she
- since
- started
- the end of
- thought/ imagined
- ... times
- when

Past Perfect sentences to complete

I'd (almost) given up (hope) when _____.

The last time that I _____, I hadn't since _____.

Before I joined this class, I had _____.

When I joined this class, I hadn't _____ since _____.

Before I chose what to study (at university), I had _____.

Before I came to my present company, I had heard that _____
_____.

Before I started working for my current company, I had thought that _____,
_____ but it wasn't true.

By the time I left university, _____ more than 100 times.

By the time I left this house this morning, _____.

By the end of last week, _____.

I didn't need to _____, because _____ already _____.

I had already _____ when I arrived _____ but it didn't help because _____.

When I first met my future (girl-/ boy-/ best) friend, _____ just _____.

When I first met _____, _____.

I had never _____ when I first _____.

I had (already/ just) left _____ when _____.