

Possessive Adjectives Drawing Game

Students choose cards, say the sentence, and can then draw that thing with pictures of themselves, their teacher or partner, or another girl and boy. It can help to tell them that if they choose the right cards they can draw nice things for themselves and not so nice or silly things for other people. With lower level classes, you might want to play without the adjectives. As an extension, students can then make their own cards to play the same game with, perhaps putting at least one thing for one letter of the alphabet like in the bottom group of nouns below.

It's	It's	They're	They're
my	your	his	her
red	black	light blue	dark blue orange	purple	pink	brown green	white	grey	yellow old	big	small	short
tall	long	happy	sad
thin	fat	ugly	pretty eyes	hair	nose	mouth
legs	arms	fingers	feet
skirt	dress	shorts	ring lipstick	high heels	boxing gloves	helmet sunglasses	pyjamas	handbag	slippers gun	tank	doll	baby
plane	tractor	motorbike	skateboard pen	pencil	eraser	pencil case book	ruler	bag	notebook toothbrush	comb	brush	mirror

cup	towel	house	bedroom cow	horse	fish	bird
spider	snake	monkey	hippo ant	frog	snail	beetle
donuts	hamburgers	sausages	watermelon apple	ball	cat	dog
elephant	fan	giraffe	hat ice cream	jacket	key	ladder money	necklace	octopus	piano queen's chair	robot	stilts	teddy umbrella	violin	watch	X-ray yoyo	zip	and	and