

Possessives- Coin Drawing Game

Possessive adjectives and possessive -'s

Secretly choose one of the phrases below, flip a coin and complete the sentence with the possessive below depending on which side of the coin is top:

Heads = His

Tails = Her

Make sure your partner can't see what you are doing.

Then draw a picture which represents the whole sentence, e.g. a picture of a boy with a small T-shirt for "His T-shirt is small" or a girl with big ears for "Her ears are big". If your partner can't guess what the picture is, circle that picture then draw the opposite with crosses through it (a girl with a cross to show that it is "he" not "she", a big T-shirt with a cross through it to show that you want "small", etc).

_____ T-shirt is small
_____ car is fast
_____ ears are big _____ eyes are big
_____ fingers are long
_____ glasses are shiny
_____ hair is curly
_____ hands are big
_____ hat is silly
_____ legs are short
_____ neck is long
_____ nose is big
_____ shoes are dirty
_____ suitcase is round
_____ trousers are short

Do the same, this time with your partner giving the person a name when they say the sentence:

Heads = Fred's (= a boy)

Tails = Ann's (= a girl)

Do the same for the pairs of possessives below, this time with a picture of yourself or a picture of your partner each time:

Heads = My

Tails = Your

Do the same with your own ideas. Write a sentence, flip the coin, then draw someone or something that matches that sentence and the side of the coin that came up.
