

Seasons Vocabulary Games

Your teacher or a classmate will call out or show words connected to spring, summer, autumn or winter. Do the action below that you have been told to so that you can show that you understand:

- Run and touch one of the four walls
- Point at one of the four walls
- Pretend to shoot one of the four walls
- Throw something at one of four walls (perhaps while someone tries to block your throw)
- Throw something at the four seasons on the whiteboard
- Pretend to shoot at seasons flashcards
- Hold up and turn around double-sided seasons flashcards
- Hold up one of your arms or legs to represent the four seasons
- Slap seasons flashcards on the table

Brainstorm words into those four categories, drawing anything which you can't write in English. They can be words that you heard in the last game or different words.

Spring	Summer	Autumn	Winter

Flashcards to hold up or slap

Cut them with two flashcards with two things back to back on each if you are doing the holding up flashcards version, e.g. "Spring" and "Summer" cut out together and then folded to be back to back.

Spring	Summer
Autumn	Winter

Write Sp for spring, Sum for summer, A for Autumn or W for winter next to each of the words below. Some could be more than one.

Weather

foggy
ice
melting snow (= snow changes to water)
snow
snowballs
snowman
sunny
typhoon
very cold
very hot
windy
air conditioning
fan
heating

Nature

acorns (= nuts falling from trees) tangerines (= a kind of orange) brown leaves on the trees
cherry blossom
leaves on the trees falling down
new flowers
orange leaves on the trees
new leaves on the trees
no leaves on the trees
migration (= birds fly somewhere warm)
crickets
red leaves on the trees
mosquitoes
cicadas
chicks (= baby birds)
hibernation (= animals sleeping)
tadpoles (= baby frogs)
baby rabbits
lambs (= baby sheep)

Months

April
August
December
February
January
July
June
March
May

November

October

September

Festivals and celebrations

American Independence Day (4 July)

April Fool's Day

Boxing Day (26 December)

Christmas

Christmas Eve

Easter

English fireworks day

Halloween

May Day

New Year's Day

New Year's Eve

The teacher's birthday

Valentine's Day

Food and drink

hot chocolate

ice cream

ice lolly

salad

stew

Activities

camping

football World Cup

ice skating

skiing

snowboarding

swimming in the sea

wear suntan lotion

Clothes

T-shirt

boots

gloves

sandals

shorts

sunglasses

sweater and coat

swimsuit

woolly hat

woolly scarf

Did you think of any which are not written above?

Play the same games with the words above and your own words, with a student taking the teacher role.