Try to get a “Yes, I do” answer from your partner with a “Do you want…?” question like those below. If they say “Yes” you get one point, but if they say “No, I don’t” you get no points.

Play the same game but pretending you are in another place. Imagine that it is the same time as it really is now and that you feel the same way that you really feel now. The person who will answer the questions can choose what place they are in.
