

Travel English- Imperatives and Requests Practice

Add just "Please..." to all the phrases below which are correct sentences with just that added, because they are orders/ instructions/ commands or because they are offers (of help etc). Make sure that you don't just add "Please..." to requests. Note that some of the commands could also take request forms, but in this case you should just add "Please..." to them at this stage.

accept our apologies for any inconvenience caused board from gate 23
book a restaurant for us
check what I should write here
come this way
dial nine for the front desk
do not leave any baggage unattended empty your pockets and take off all belts, jewellery, watches, coats and shoes
explain these items on my bill
fill in landing cards before you reach the immigration desks get past
have a wake-up call at 7 a.m
have another look at the dessert menu
have your boarding passes and passports ready for inspection
let me know when you are ready to order
open all the blinds
order some room service
pay by credit card
put coats and jackets onto the belt too
put your chairs into an upright position recommend something to do with small kids remain seated until the plane comes to a complete standstill remain seated until your seat number is called remove any metal items and step through the metal detector again
remove computers from your hand luggage and put them through separately
return to your seats
see your boarding pass and passport sit anywhere you like
stand over here and raise your arms
stow your tables ready for landing
take me to this address
take the monorail to terminal two tell me how to adjust the temperature in the room translate this for me
turn off your mobile phones or switch them to aircraft mode

Add "Can you...?" or "Can I...?" to all the other sentences above (or similar forms like "Could I possibly...?")

Are any of the commands/ orders/ instructions above better with "Can/ Could" forms?

Without looking above for now, brainstorm questions using each of the starters given for each of the people below. Phrases not above are also okay.

Traveller*Asking for information

Can I check...?

Can I pay...?

Can you explain...?

Can you recommend...?

Can you tell me...?

Requests

Can I have...?

Can I order...?

Could you possibly book...?

Sorry, can I...?

Sorry, could you...?

Would it be possible to...?

Staff*Airport check-in staff

Please board...

Please take...

Security

Please have...

Please take off...

Please put...

Please remove...

Please stand...

Airport announcements (including at the gate)

Please accept...

Please board...

Please do not leave...

Please remain...

Announcements in the aircraft

Please do not...

Please listen...

Please open...

Please put...

Please remain...

Please return...

Please stow...

Please turn off...

Immigration

Please fill in...

Please have...

Hotel staff

Please dial...

Look at the first worksheet to check your sentences and for more ideas.